⊗ What Are Those Stripes?

The poise and carriage of Celebrity Officers is nothing short of impressive. Their dress is always impeccable; sporting crisp uniforms complete with emblematic striped epaulets. But what do those stripes mean? The Captain's epaulet contains the gold commodore bar with anchor. The Staff Captain's epaulet contains four gold stripes with anchor on black background. The Chief Engineer's epaulet contains four gold stripes with propeller on purple background. The purple background honors the memory of the maritime engineers of the Titanic. The Hotel Director's epaulet contains four gold stripes on a white background. The Environmental Officer's epaulet contains three gold stripes on a green background with the universal recycle emblem. The Senior Doctor contains 3 1/2 stripes with a red background signifying its relation to the Red Cross and the Red Crescent of medical assistance. Although originally worn in the field, epaulets are more common today on dress or ceremonial uniforms.

📍 Information

How Is Your Cruise Going?

We sincerely hope you are enjoying your cruise vacation. The ship's officers, staff and crew are committed to providing you with an extraordinary experience. We strive to improve what we offer to you each day. Any area you feel we are doing well, and areas you feel we could improve are welcome. A 'We Thrive on Feedback' card has been delivered to your stateroom. If there is anything you would like to share with us, please complete this card and drop it off at the Guest Relations Desk.

Deck Chairs, Jogging Track & Pools

Please refrain from reserving deck chairs and blocking the Jogging Track on Deck 14. This is in fairness to your fellow guests and so that everyone can enjoy the facilities. Personal items will be removed from chairs after half an hour and can be reclaimed from the Pool Deck Supervisor. Also, please note that the Solarium Pool and Jacuzzis are for our Adult Guests only (ages 16 & above). Families can utilize the Outdoor Pools and Jacuzzis – for details see Page 4 under "Hours of Operation". Thank you for your understanding.

Health Alert

Center for Disease Control (CDC) recommends that travelers to the Caribbean protect themselves from mosquito bites. Mosquitoes spread many types of viruses and parasites that can cause diseases like chikungunya, dengue, Zika, and malaria. If you are traveling to an area where malaria is found, we encourage you to take precautions to avoid mosquito bites by remaining in well-screened or air-conditioned areas when possible, by wearing light-colored clothing that adequately covers the arms and legs, and by applying insect repellent to both skin and clothing. For more information please visit www.cdc.gov/features/StopMosquitoes or pick up a leaflet at the Guest Relations desk on deck 3.
